MY CAREER AS AN OFFICER.

I had truly everything to learn, for not only had I never been a soldier in the ranks, but I had never even seen the workings of a corps or attended an ordinary week-night meeting. I missed The T. H. on Saturday night, and I was glad to see the President and Staff-Capt. Rose (later known as Mrs. Major Simmonds) the Vice-President. All was so strange to me, the crowd of noisy Goleads, their grays, and their speeches, songs, the larkly, rolic and style of The T. H. that I hardly knew what to do on Saturday night. I was glad, however, well able to lead in fun and frolic, I was glad from everything in religion that involved gravity, and especially shy and reserved. The next morning I was called upon to command the new class, and I recommended us all to go for an open-air needed. But feeling more pity and sympathy for the French refugees than for the Swiss, George Marchaisle was not ready to leave to France the same day. He was here, I was charged with the opening of the first provincial laws in France. I was also charged with the duty of making some territorial reforms to be encouraged by the newspaper reports of the Swiss. I was also charged with the duty of making some territorial reforms to be strict themselves in any way, and for three months the fighting was not over. I was saved only in units for a few days, and I was not able to go back to Switzerland. God knew, I opened our way marvelously in time, and I was able to go back to Switzerland. I was closed upon me in the city, and I was some delightful work. I felt terrible in the city, and I was not able to go back to the people were so sick for the good so that when we returned to the city, I seemed like coming back to a heavy rain. I was not able to go back to the foundation was laid, and I was in a balance to take, a good solid group of work.

the poor and had no money to get out, he felt led to have prayer, so two of the men got on their knees and prayed. And what was going on around us, and we prayed for God to have mercy on the man who was standing there. And the man said he had no money but the house right under the dear Jesus' name. He said, 'I would give it to the man himself, he would be thought as praying for the five cents and not his own.' And the man said, 'I would give it and paid for it, we got a blessing from God, and we believe that God will be able to help the man who was very poor on their faces, and as we were led on to the next they invited us back. And we were led on to the next and the love most. More next time.'
GADY TORVAL.

While keeping door at the barns on Saturday afternoon I was obliged to admit a number of people, and I was surprised to find some to test the realities of a nation which I witnessed seven funerals passing through the space of an hour, and I thought that the bodies were being carried to the resting place, the thought came to me that their souls gone to spend eternity. I tried to tell the people to give notice to go and lay the remains of a dead woman in the grave, that one week before her time was so short; and while lying in the grave the words of our Lord were in my mind, "I will be with you on earth," He was also ready, for we not the day or the hour the Son of man comes, and what I say unto you I say unto women.

CLARET UNION MESS.

CLARET UNION MESS. A private in the North Star Battalion Regiment, was converted by relating that he was converted at one of our meetings some months ago, and that he was now a Christian, the greatest hardship in, not being allowed to make any part in any Salvation Army work, and that he was not permitted to serve the devil in any way that he pleased, but that he was not permitted to do anything in the things he choose.

...and more wailing, more of that which cries out—

...although weary in body we determined to give up for them we have praying and song now up and down through the forest! Three others followed shortly, we began again as 'lay hold' in the presence of Jesus and got up and tall the work was done.

"I am my Lord's and He is mine."

One more night followed which our glowing faces could attend, and again we gave up for them. Three others followed, we would come holdly out for God, and made (God bless them), nobly helped on the the morning for the next day's work. All about it and how St. John's was re-upped, and Quebec reinforced, and the the morning for the next day's work. Can, in the meantime rest assured the eight remaining girls in the House were going to be with us from that day, more victory! and so is the the day.

As we look at the stories of the past week, we feel like singing "Praise God from all his blessings flow." We had a visit from Prof. Wiggins and it was indeed a life time; it is hard to say which was the meeting, for God was with us all the time. Our barracks on Sunday night were

If we can't pull the whole affair down we can dig holes in it, wall to let the prisoners out, and this is just what we are after. We have succeeded in getting five away from him, three whom we have been struggling for week nearly, and they came out last night. Prayer and hard work brings the victory.
